Rainbows are beautiful displays of artistry. They symbolize nature's renewal for the land by providing it with nourishment and preparing it for exposure to the elements. Just as rainbows represent the priming of the land by nature, schools lay the groundwork for education and prepare one for life beyond graduation. Each color of the rainbow describes a feeling or symbolizes a state of being.

The color red represents beauty, courage, fire, blood, and charity. The spirit of Christmas and the love and charity of the season is conveyed through the use of this color. Bold and bright, it brings forth thoughts of fires crackling with warmth and compassion for the common blood of humanity.

RAINBOWS A WIDE

1. No way! Can I face my Freshman class today.
2. Ruedi Hill takes a Burleson Elk for a ride.
3. Early morning practice finds Daine Buice preparing for halftime entertainment.
4. Bulldog Seal displays Bulldog pride.
5. Camera shy Juniors, Gayla Null and Gina Whitley, are caught off guard.

SPECTRUM OF EMOTIONS

The color orange reminds one of the warmth and glow of the morning sun, or the splendor of a sunset on the horizon. It is characteristic of autumn when the leaves take on a slightly burnished hue, touching the eye with beauty beyond compare. It is symbolic of the hospitality so typical of Texas, and of an everlasting friendship with the strength and endurance of all time.

DIFFERENT COLORS

Yellow is characteristic of the spring and summer months when nature is in its prime; fresh and new. It reminds one of the sun with its necessary qualities for giving and sustaining life. It represents honor, loyalty, and integrity so highly desired in the modern society. The young people of today rely on their friends and loved ones for these qualities. The combination of these traits are the single most important non-material personal possessions we may acquire in life.

1. Bulldogs give thanks for an injury free game and a victory over the Burleson Elks.
2. Marci LaDuke is E.H.S.'s own version of a Dallas Cowboy Cheerleader.
3. Drum Major Greg Blalock leads band in early morning practice.
4. Rick Moody shows enthusiasm as he begins his Senior year.
5. Injured Kurt Boson displays undying support for his fellow teammates.

Green is the symbol of nature, youth, and life eternal. It is individuals never ceasing to grow in knowledge and continually expanding their horizons, just as nature never ceases to renew itself. From day to day, each individual is fresh, green, and full of vigor. As time goes on, one learns to adapt to the dry spells as well as the floods. By conforming to the trials and hardships of everyday existence, one has learned enough to survive autumn and acquire life forever.

1. Varsity Cheerleaders raise Bulldog spirit at weekly pep rallies.
2. Allan White says "Eat your heart out Farrah".
3. Bubba Graham or Dolly Parton?????
4. A big smile and a lot of wiggle, seen every Friday morning by The Royal Majestics.
5. Eric Bryers needs to realize that curiosity killed the cat.

STUDENTS FILL THE

The color blue brings forth both the essence of beauty and the stronghold of authority. It is a versatile color, representing a number of various feelings. Blue as seen in the heavens brings on calm, peaceful, and serene feelings. The blue of the sea, however, prompts mysterious, puzzling, and often turbulent sensations. It represents truth, piety, and sincerity. These virtues are brought out in the uniforms worn by those deserving honor. By striving for these qualities, persons of authoritative positions enforce the intense bond felt toward our country.

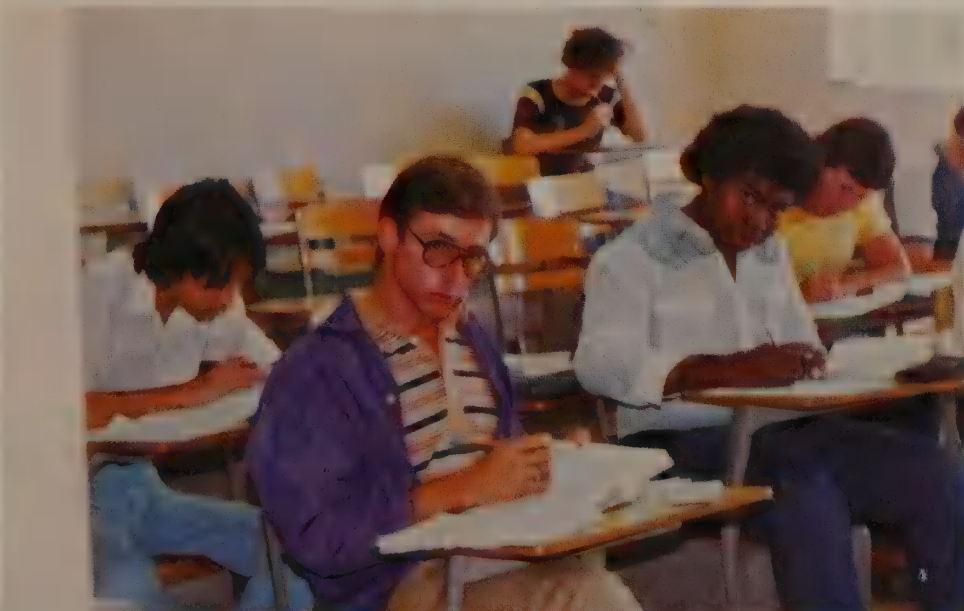

1. Mischievous students keep Mr. Basset busy from 8:30 until 3:30.
2. Office assistant Angela Lester takes break after busy day.
3. Julia Williams catches up with leisure time in Speech class.
4. No, it's not Kiss's Gene Simmons, it's Everman's Marsha Ingram.
5. The introduction of football team highlights first pep rally.

HALLS WITH COLOR

Purple symbolizes rank and royalty. It is a traditionally popular color among wealthy and aristocratic families. Purple is also characteristic of our campus. It represents the richness of honor and school spirit felt among the student body. It reminds one of sorrow and suffering as displayed by the Purple Heart presented to those wounded in battle. Pride is probably the best word to describe the color purple. Pride as denoted by those honoring the deceased or brave, and the students of E.H.S.

1. Jan Rodgers eagerly awaits Friday morning sign hanging.
2. Coach Edwards addresses E.H.S. students at the first pep rally.
3. The "Whaa Gang" strikes again.
4. Mack Baldrige and Reggie Johnson show their classroom enthusiasm.
5. A smile of relief spreads across this Freshman's face as the bell rings.

HOWDY WEEK STARTS COLORFUL YEAR

Seniors respond to roll-call with an explosion of confetti and glitter.

Mr. Puryear welcomes everyone back for the new year.

The first week of school is traditionally known as Howdy Week. Varied in emotions from freshman apprehension to senior enthusiasm, it proved to be a colorful week enjoyed by all. It was not only a time to learn how to eat breakfast and finish your homework at the same time, but it also gave the students an opportunity to become familiar with surroundings, teachers, and operational procedures at EHS. One highlight of the week included the Howdy Assembly where the selection of a Howdy King, Queen, and Teacher were announced. These individuals, chosen for their friendly smiles and helpful attitudes, displayed congeniality throughout the week. These outstanding people should serve as an example to all.

Howdy Week served as a time for good first impressions for students. By starting off on the right foot, the school year was begun with spirit and unity. Overall, Howdy Week proved to be an enjoyable time for all.

Seniors wonder who's going to clean up the mess.

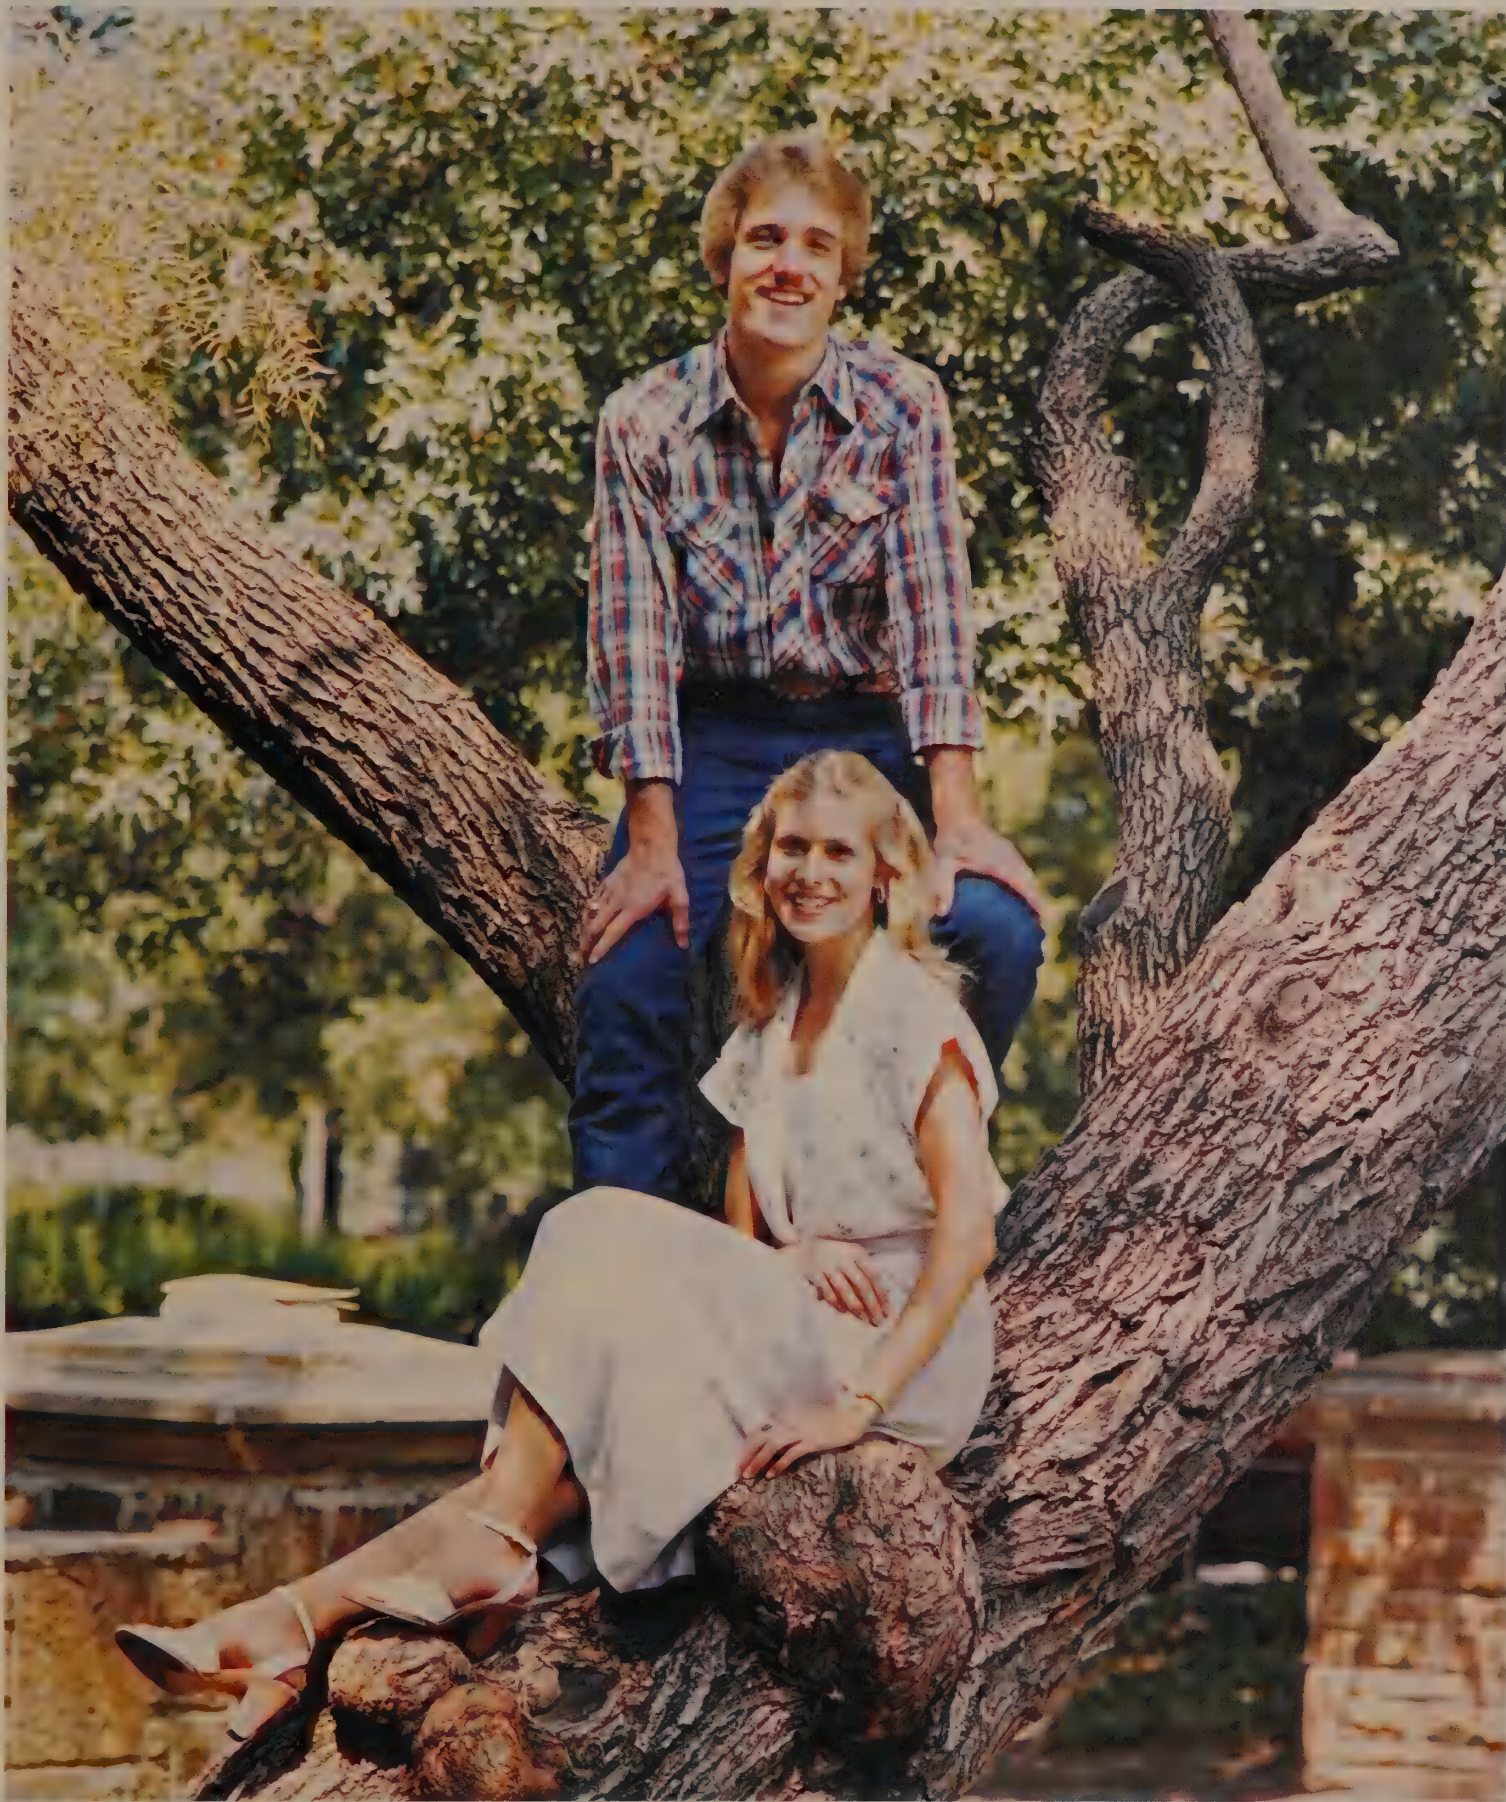

Sophomores prove . . . underclassmen also have class spirit.

SENIOR PEP RALLY BRINGS

Seniors recall fond memories of the past "Twelve Years of School" shown by: Jeff Byford, Missy Mitchell, Debbie McKee, Jenny Juroska, Brenda Newberry, Charmaine Massengale, Mickey Hernandez, Susan Wright.

(above) Dennice Sorenson and Mike Stults represent the first two school years (below) Brenda Newberry and Charmaine Massengale reflect on years past during the final strains of "dreams of youth become the deeds of men."

COLORFUL MEMORIES

The Seniors of 1981 were the first class in the history of E.H.S. to have two Senior pep rallies. Technically, the next to the last pep rally was designated as the nostalgic final gathering. It was at that time the Senior Drill Team performed and football players, cheerleaders, and coaches handed out tokens of appreciation for the year's hard work. The traditional slide show was a great success. Photographer Bubba Graham provided a memorable and sentimental scrapbook for the Seniors. The Seniors wish to thank Bubba for his hard work. Due to difficulties beyond control, the final pep rally was in the old gymnasium. Nevertheless, emotions were still riding high as our 9-1 football team carried the student body into the final pep rally with feelings to spare. The Bulldog's season ended on a special note with the best record ever achieved by E.H.S. With a look back over the years traveled thus far, Seniors prepared a skit to review the past "Twelve Years of School," going back to first grade when they entered a world destined to take up the majority of their time to come. They finished the skit with the command to "Never Forget Your Memories," a worthy idea for all to follow. As a symbol of appreciation, Jr. Holly Hill composed a poem to the Senior Class of 1981—a very kind gesture for a Junior to make. With football players, cheerleaders, drill team, and, of course, the Seniors, the final two pep rallies were emotional and most of all memorable.

SO LONG SENIORS

Well now it's time to say so long to the Seniors
I love so much;
The ones that seemed to be there and had that special touch;
They've brought me up in a special way from what I used to be;
They told me things and showed me things I thought I'd never see;
We seem to be so short of time to let our friendship grow;
But just remember my love's with you wherever you may go;
And I just have one thing to say before I start
to cry;
Just remember, you're leaving but it will never be goodbye.

The International Thespian Society plays an active part in the E.H.S. drama department. Students interested in theater work on productions either on stage or on the technical crew. Each of the Thespians (pictured around the border) must work in two different fields of drama to gain ten points for acceptance into the Society. It is an honor and a sign of dedication to receive the official title of Thespian. These hard working students are commended for their diligent work. Each year the drama department presents a major full length play and also a one act presented in competition. The cast and crew members began work on the production approximately ten weeks in advance. This years cast of "Romanoff and Juliet" went into rehearsal the third week of school and presented it on November 20 and 21. The cast included: Jeff Byford-Igor Romanoff; Julia Williams-Juliet Moulsworth; Kenny Rector-Vadium Romanoff; Susan Hollars-Evdokia Romanoff; Craig Bennett-Hooper Moulsworth; Johnathan Russell- General; Charlie Rubey-Spy; Tommy Criger-1st Soldier; Johnnie Johnson-2nd Soldier; Gordon Carter-Archbishop; Cary Wright-Freddie Vanderbuildt; Laura Davis-Marfa Zoltaquencko; Martha Johnson-Death; Warren McQue-Father Time; Robbie Hatch-Clock Figure; they all worked long and hard to insure a smooth and successful performance.

Director Sarah Yarbrough has been at E.H.S. for several years in the capacity of director and teacher in both drama and art. She is a graduate of Abilene Christian College where she earned her Masters Degree in drama and art. Anyone who has worked on a production at Everman can truly appreciate the patience and expertise she possesses.

The Everman High School Marching Band took on a whole new look this year. With three new band directors, new uniforms, and a total of 90 members, the band put on a great half time show at each game, both home and away. Included in the band not only are musicians, but twirlers and flag girls as well.

Under the direction of John Parnell, this year's band attended the U.I.L. marching contest at the University of Texas at Arlington and scored II. This is the highest that Everman has ever scored in U.I.L.

EVEN FOREIGN EXCHANGE STUDENTS

One of E.H.S.'s foreign exchange students for 1981 was Virginia Manede. She came to Everman from Brasilia, Brazil, and is staying with Lisa Pittman for six months while attending Everman High. Becoming a doctor is Virginia's main goal for the future. Virginia was definitely an asset to the student body in 1981.

FEEL AT HOME AT E.H.S.

Alejandra Meregoni stayed with Jill Wilcox for six months. She came to us from Buenos Aires, Argentina, where she was a senior. She is an outstanding athlete. She enjoys tennis, swimming, and running track. Alejandra has introduced us to Spanish culture and the student body at Everman gave her a warm welcome to Texas hospitality.

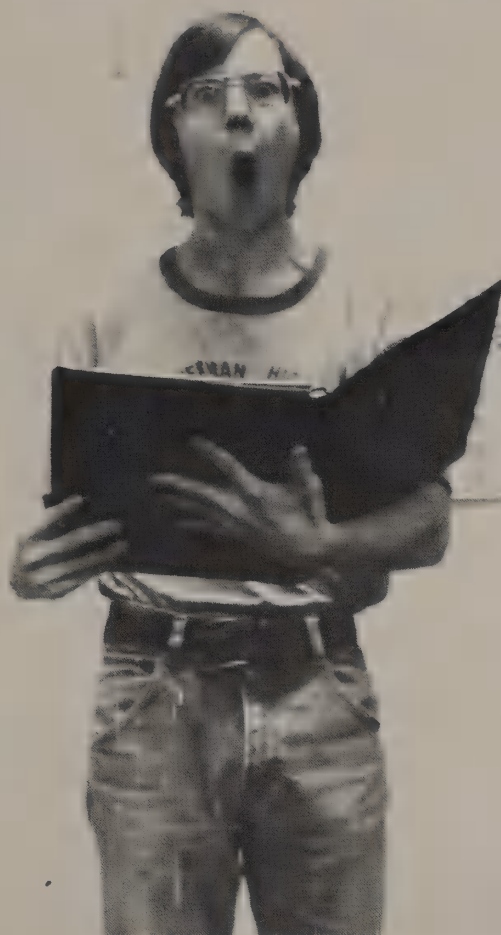

SPEECH AND DEBATE

The speech and debate departments attend approximately twelve forensic tournaments a year. Both debaters and speakers were exceptionally successful during this speech season. E.H.S. won three sweepstakes trophies for the students all-round combined efforts. Congratulations to Mrs. Samuelson and Mrs. Hampton for their outstanding contributions in communications.

The Beacon Staff worked hard producing the 1981 annual. Each member gave it his own personal touch. Mrs. Cheryl Hampton, sponsor and advisor, had one of the most difficult jobs of the staff. She helped with everything from layouts to punctuation. Jeff Byford was editor this year. He assigned jobs and supervised the work of the staff members. Gina Woodard was co-editor of the Beacon. Her job was to proofread body copy; also, she had the responsibility of keeping the annual constant throughout. As editors, Jeff and Gina designed the opening and closing of the Beacon. The sports section was the responsibility of Ricky Yoder and Doug Beagles. Together they worked to find pictures that would portray the sports season. Afterwards, they designed the pages and wrote the accompanying body copy. Dennice Sorenson, Jan Parker, Tammy Cheek, and Rhonda Brookshire were responsible for the activities section. They laid out the section with group shots, and also covered special events and assemblies. The class section was headed by Warren Owen, Sheri Peets, and Ray Bozeman. They arranged pages and identified unknown students. The faculty section was Lori Spence's and Brenda Browner's responsibility. They laid out the faculty's pictures, showing the faculty's personality and flair. Dona Bryan designed the ad section and index. Frank Castillo, the business manager, kept all the finances up-to-date. Mickey Hernandez served as staff artist, designing all artwork and the cover design. Finally, Bubba Graham and his assistant Steve Metcalfe were the photographers. Their talent was displayed throughout the annual. The 1981 Beacon Staff was proud to make this annual the success that it is.

SKIPPING . . . SOME DO

Mr. Puryear in an attempt to stop a skipping student

The parking lot seems to be a busy spot throughout each day. Students are "out-lawed" from "illegally" skipping their classes and lunch. However, as the day proceeds the parking lot goes into full action. Students prefer leaving for lunch rather than eating in the cafeteria. Students seem to also prefer a little trip home, to the store or to the lake rather than remaining in a classroom. Mr. Puryear cleverly "tries" to catch the "skippers" by scattering teachers in the parking lot; however, it comes up empty! Students sneak out just a little uneasy about being caught but when it comes empty! Students sneak out just a little uneasy about being caught, but when it comes time to return, the uneasiness grows more intense! By the time you are a senior, it is not quite as nerve-racking. As long as Everman High School continues to have a closed campus, students will continue to skip!

A couple manage to 'escape'

AND SOME DON'T

One more student bites the dust

"One more likely excuse!"

"This food is no laughing matter."

"I would rather starve than . . ."

One experience that all Everman students share at one time or another is eating lunch in the school's cafeteria. The food was not always exactly what the students wanted. At least the company was good, if you call good company foolish freshmen, silly sophomores, jumpy juniors, and super seniors. The reason most students stay in the cafeteria may either be because of the expense of gas and money to buy food or because they are scared to leave. The food is not as bad as everyone really says, but it's not the York Steak House either.

COUNCIL PRESENTS "SCROOGE CURYEAR"

Each year the Student Council performs at several different assemblies. Their Christmas program was the most successful. It was a parody of Dicken's "A Christmas Carol." In the Student Council's version the terrible Scrooge Curyear stopped his students from having their Christmas party. During the night he was visited by four spirits. Marsha Ingram, the ghost of Christmas 1956, was the first to visit Mr. Curyear and his wife. The ghosts of Christmases 1968 and 1978 were soon to follow. Mr. Curyear was finally convinced by the ghost of Christmas Present to allow his students to have their Christmas party. Of course the student body enjoyed the show tremendously, but why was Mr. Puryear frowning?

1. Scrooge Curyear (Jon Puryear) tells the classroom "There will be no Christmas parties in my school!" 2. The Ghost of Christmas 1968 (Jeff Byford) relates to Scrooge Curyear of the misfortunes that he layed on the hippies because of no Christmas parties. 3. While Mr. Curyear and Mrs. Curyear (Brenda Newberry) try to sleep, the ghost of Christmas 1978 (Jan Parker) disco's her way into their bedroom to tell of the miseries he caused the Disco freaks. 4. The ghost of Christmas Present (Paul Norris) convinces Scrooge Curyear to change his mind. 5. Betsy Goodbody (Angie Lilly) shows her gratitude to Mr. Curyear for allowing Christmas parties. 6. Student Council wishes the student body a happy holiday season.

DOGS DOMINATE

The Everman Bulldogs ended the season with an extraordinary record of 9-1. The season was filled with nerve-racking games that were won in the final seconds. In the first game of the season against Desoto, the tempo was set for the rest of the season. Both teams, eager to gain their first win, fought vigorously seesawing back and forth. The game remained scoreless until a turnover late in the contest gave the Bulldogs one final chance. The Bulldogs took the ball and moved it into fieldgoal range, just three seconds before the final gun. Senior Kurt Boson was called in to do the task. Kurt kicked the ball 28 yards for the three points to give the Bulldogs the win.

The next three games that the Bulldogs played were not quite as exciting for the Dogs won each game by a margin of thirteen points or more. This winning margin could not stand against our longtime rival, Mansfield. As always with Mansfield, the score was very close. At halftime it was tied at 6; in the fourth quarter it was tied at 14. With only seven seconds left in the game, it seemed as if the two teams would have to settle for a tie, but a play never before used by the Bulldogs was sent in to quarterback Robbie Musick. The play, 94-lateral, was a pass-lateral in which a 15-yard pass was tossed to Alonzo Johnson. He in turn lateraled to Ruedie Hill who dashed forty-five yards for a touchdown to pull out a squeaky 20-14 victory. With five games completed the Bulldogs had an outstanding record of 5-0.

After an open week, the Dogs traveled to Grandbury to start district play. Although they were not expected to be much trouble, they gave the Dogs a tough fight. The Dogs, dominating the first half, went into the dressing room with a 19-7 lead. Grandbury came out strong in the second half, scoring seven points in both the third and fourth quarters enabling them to take a lead of 19-21 with 5:20 left on the clock. The Bulldogs took the ball with fifty-two seconds left in the game. After running three plays, on fourth down with fourteen seconds left in the game, Donald Atmore came on the scene and kicked the ball through the uprights to give the Dogs the lead and the win.

The next week was Homecoming and the Dogs played their toughest opponent, Brownwood. The Bulldogs were up for this game, but it was the first and only time that the ball bounced the other way. It was a real disappointment to the Dogs who had thought this might be the year to win district.

The game with Cleburne proved to be a challenge for the Dogs. They were coming from their big loss against Brownwood. The Bulldogs showed that new winning tradition and canned Cleburne 26-6 and gained their seventh win of the season.

Crowley was the next unfortunate team to be on the Bulldog's schedule. This game was special in the fact that many of the opposite team members were acquainted friends. The competition was excellent and the Bulldogs won 25-0, tying our Dogs for the best record at E.H.S.

The finale of the year, against Stevenville, was the most physical and competitive game of the season. This game brought out the best in both teams. Displaying all their talents and effort, the Bulldogs defeated them 23-13, ending the season with a 9-1 record ... the best yet at E.H.S.

The young Dogs possess high hopes for next year, and expect alot of talent to take over the task of carrying on that winning tradition of E.H.S. football.

VOLLEYBALL SERVES

E.H.S.'s Varsity Volleyball team had a successful series this year by finishing the season with a record of 4-2 in district and 8-10 for the season. They looked exceptionally well in pre-season considering that most of the teams they played were 5-A teams.

Ten determined girls worked together as a team to gain 2nd place in district play. After tying for 1st place with Cleburne in district, the play-off match between the two left them receiving 2nd place.

Combined efforts by Melinda Cleary, Kathy Brannon, and Karen Nace formed the front line of the team. Captain Lisa Daggs was selected to All-District, while Cindy Brown and Kathie Brannon both received Honorable Mention All-District.

IN MEMORY OF A FRIEND

Senior Frank Pantoja, October 8, 1962 — December 21, 1980

To those who knew him, Frank was a quiet and considerate person, who never infringed upon the rights of others. Two things which he enjoyed most in life were his involvement in sports and his interest in cars. Frank was also a dedicated Christian whose main concern was learning more about God. All who knew him agree that he had a place in their hearts. Frank left behind many special memories in which we can reflect on and remember him.

The Senior Class of 1981 were a spirited group. From the first day to the last, seniors showed their true colors. These seniors always put one hundred percent into all of their projects whether it was building a float or simply winning the spirit stick during a pep rally. Seniors of '81 have more than spirit, they also excelled in academics. A majority of the seniors took weighted courses in higher mathematics, science, and English. They would not settle for simply meeting the requirements. These gifted spirited seniors created life and colorful memories during their four years.

The Freshmen of Everman High School were often teased and ridiculed. They soon learned that being the "new class" wasn't as exciting as they might have anticipated. Nevertheless, they were an important facet of student life. At the beginning of their first year, they were commonly called "fish." Yet, by the end of the year most had earned the title of freshman. They then looked forward to advancing to the rank of sophomore.

THE 1981 AWARD WINNING BEACON STAFF

Picas, layout sheet, body copy, caption blocks, and trapped white space, are words the average EHS student lacks in their vocabulary. Members of the Beacon Staff quickly learn the proper usage of words and phrases such as these.

Eighteen dedicated students interested in the field of journalism made up the 1980-81 Beacon Staff. They began preparing the yearbook in August, by attending a three day workshop at Texas Wesleyan College. From entries of twelve competing schools, they received first place for their outstanding division pages.

Once school began, they were involved in many aspects of creating an enjoyable and informative annual. Staffers soon learned they also must be excellent salesmen. From the first day, they had to sell annuals to students and ads to local businesses. Then started the never ending struggle of a layout. They found it different from what they expected. Layouts have numerous technicalities that must be worked out and adjusted in order to acquire a uniform page. It became more complicated than just sticking a picture on a page.

The selection of the staff is announced each May. A test is given each April for the selection of the staff. Students bold enough to risk their life to picas and body copy take the exam as a test of talent and ability. They are tested on grammatical abilities, comprehension, and writing techniques.

Although the majority of the credit attributed to the annual is awarded to the Beacon Staff, Mrs. Cheryl Hampton, the 80-81 staff sponsor should be recognized not only for her talented ideas and suggestions, but also for the hard work, long hours and never-ending dedication.

STUDENT COUNCIL OFFICERS FOR 1981: Paul Norris, President; Jan Parker, Vice-President; Gina Woodard, Secretary; Beverly Guantt, Treasurer; Jeff Byford, Reporter

The Student Council is a vital part of EHS. They work together in order to promote school unity by sponsoring various activities. During the spirit filled week of homecoming they organized many activities. These included selling mums to the students, organizing hall decorations, and choosing themes for the class cars.

The Council also sponsored two dances this year. They presented original themes with emphasis on refreshments, music, and decorations.

Valentine's Day was also made special for many sweethearts. Students sent carnations to friends with a note composed of personal feelings. There were also love potions and candy available to send.

Student Council members are elected representatives from classes or clubs. The main duty is to represent the ideas and feelings of the students. With sponsors John Reed and Donna Stevens, they served as a vital channel between the students and faculty of EHS.

In order to be a stronger and better team, members attended camp in July at Southern Methodist University. Much new talent and knowledge was obtained in the one week of camp. The last day was competition day. All drill teams attending competed for various trophies. The Royal Majestics entered competition in high kick and a stand routine. They received a second place in each field. The year proved to be one of the best for the 1980-81 Royal Majestics.

I.C.T. PREPARES FOR FUTURE

I.C.T. represents Industrial Cooperative Training. This course offers three elective credits for each year of completion with two years being the maximum. A student attends I.C.T. class one hour each day in addition to at least two other regular courses. After attending school, they then attend on-the-job training in the field of industry. Each student must work a minimum of fifteen hours a week. Mr. Ed House, the club sponsor, keeps close contact with each employer concerning the students efforts and attitudes while on the job.

At the end of the year, a banquet is given in which the employers and students attend. The banquets main contribution is to show the students appreciation to the employers.

I.C.T. on-the-job training enables students to be involved in the working world while obtaining valuable experience that prepares them for the future.

ENGLISH AND MATH

Teachers helping students on the individual level made this year very successful for the English department. Freshmen began the tedious task of learning sentence structure and paragraph development. These students put their new found skills to work in formal writing. They also found literature to be a little less glum than expected. Sophomore students expanded vocabularies while reading many marvelous works of American, British, and foreign authors. Students in the Junior class improved their writing skills and eventually wrote a research paper. Seniors combined the accumulated knowledge of past years and used it wisely to improve their writing, reading ability, and their overall attitudes toward English. The student body at Everman High School was given valuable knowledge this year by a staff of excellent instructors.

Learning to clarify, simplify, and unify were the goals of math classes this year. Trig., algebra, and geometry offered students the chance to solve challenging problems which leave them with a feeling of accomplishment. Algebra gives students the beginning basics to solve simple equations. Geometry teaches circumferences and theorems so students may solve complicated problems. Trig. combines all of these skills together in order to answer complex and difficult questions. Mathematics is a major part of everyday school life through which students benefit immensely.

1980-81 Band Directors: J. Parnell, C. Darling, D. Levy, G. Haughton

The Fine Arts Department consists of everything from Spanish to speech and drama to debate. There were many projects sponsored by this department during the year. "Romanoff and Juliet" was the successful production directed by Sarah Yarbough and Dramatiks and Co. The cast and crew worked many weeks in preparation for the two-day production. The school choir, directed by George Burke, gave the student body a musical tribute to the season during the Christmas assembly. Our band, under the head direction of John Parnell, created a bright new sound for the football and concert season. The speech and debate squads competed in several tournaments during the year and won numerous trophies. Debate was sponsored by Mrs. Samuelson and speech by Mrs. Hampton. Overall, the Fine Arts Department had a colorful part in the spectrum of E.H.S.

Cafeteria Personnel for 1980-81

I just love washing all of these dishes

Where is everybody?

The custodians and cafeteria personnel revolve around a world of cooking and cleaning for the student body at Everman High School. They always remain friendly even with spills in the halls, candy wrappers and cans littering the campus, and complaints about the food. A big thanks is in order to these people for their major part at our school.

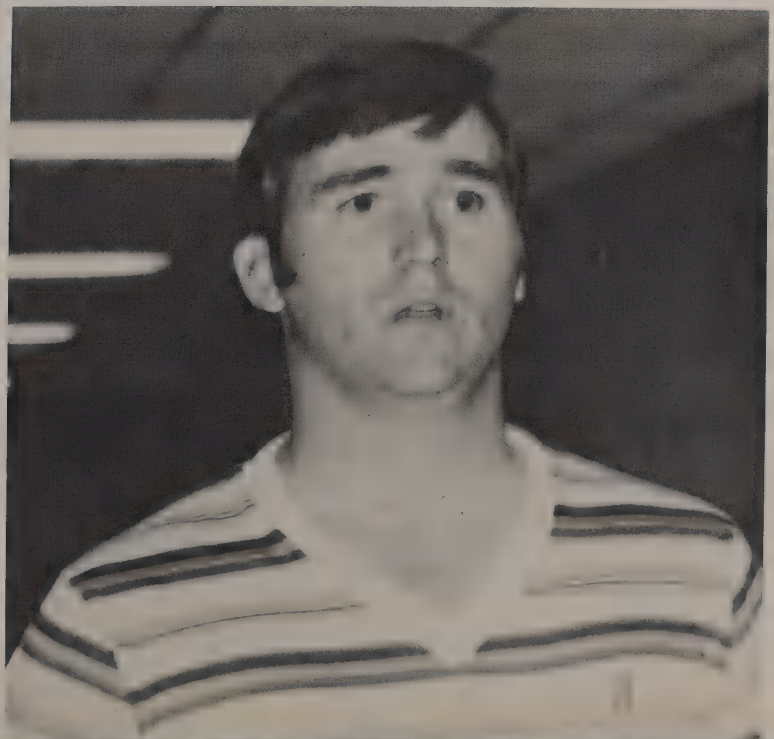

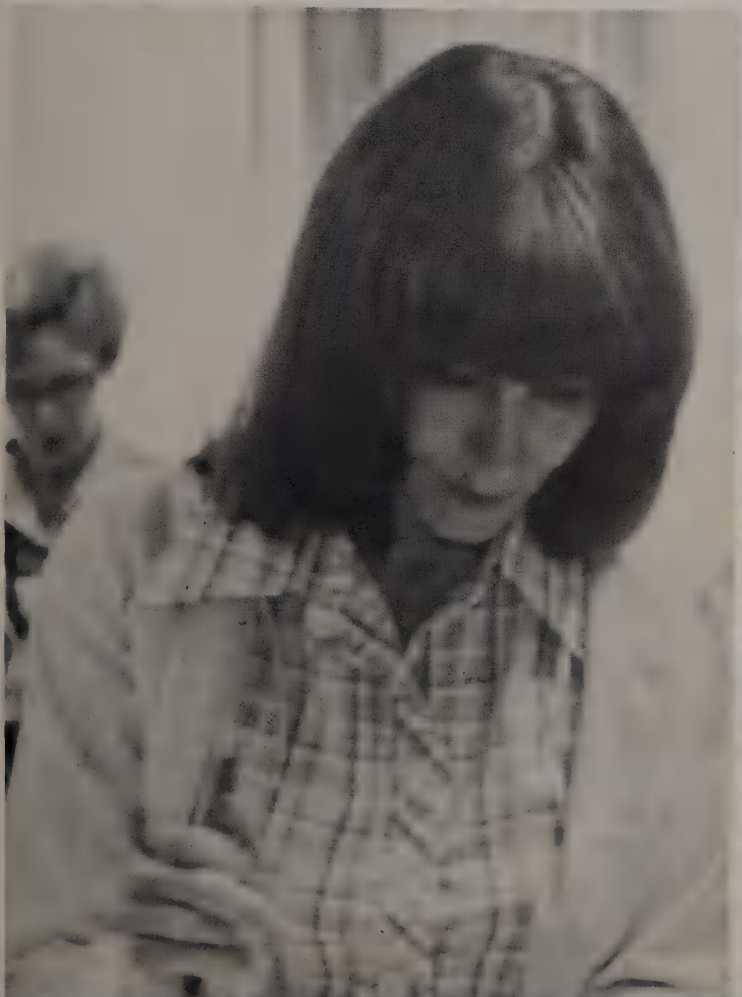

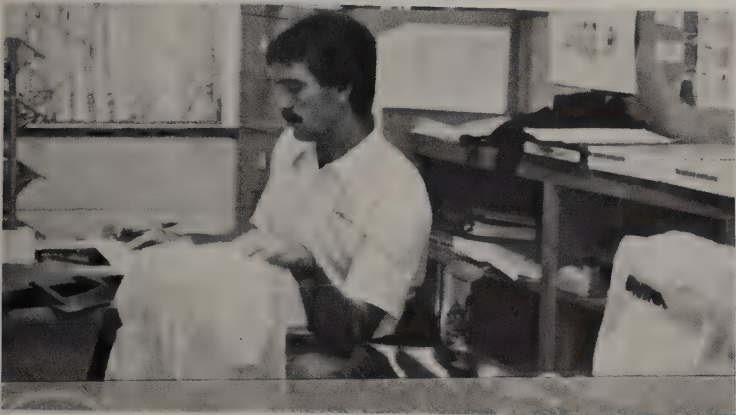

Did you drop that silly spoon in the chili again???

STUDENTS FIND A

Just as a rainbow fades away, the 1981 school year comes to a close, leaving behind many memories which will linger on until the end of time. As time passed each student formed a different hue leaving a mark on friends, teachers, and most of all, leaving a mark on Everman High School.

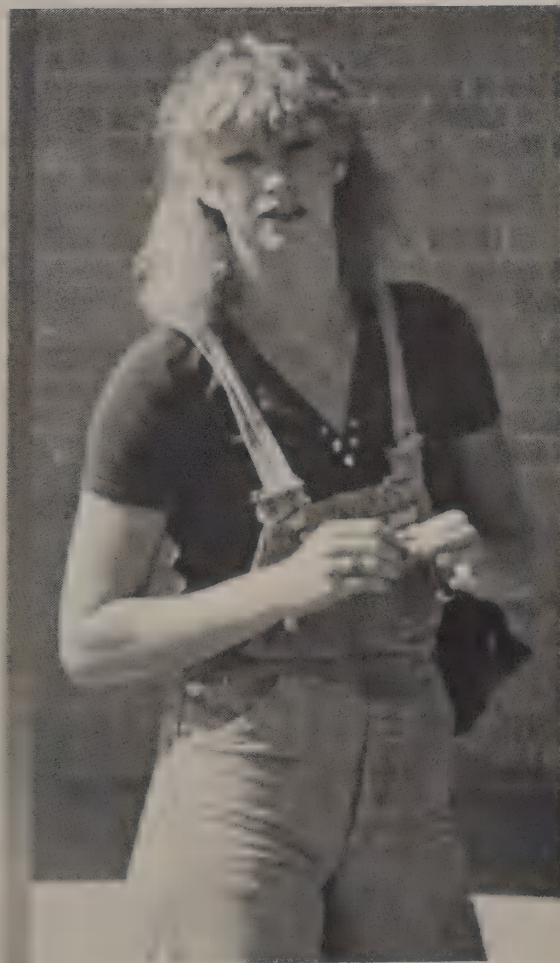

1. Freshman tries to avoid camera but fails. Carrie O'Conner dreams of someday becoming a senior. 3. Jon be Nimble, Jon be quick, Jon Puryear jumped over the candlestick. 4. Sophomores wonder why they can't skip lunch. 5. Student Council shows excitement during Christmas Assembly.

POT OF GOLD . . .

The Class of 1981 will depart from Everman High leaving behind many great accomplishments. It was only yesterday when the ninth graders of 1978 won the last Homecoming float competition and earned the title "Freshmen." As they became Sophomores, they won every class competition for 1979. Dominating Spring Fever Week and winning Powder Puff highlighted their Junior year, once again proving that they were not only a class, but a class united as one. As their final year arrived, they were regarded as one of the best classes ever to go through Everman High. They set their goals to make every ordinary event a unique one that will always be cherished. Now facing adulthood, they look back over the four years at Everman High and remember the smiles, the love shared, and the good times which made time elapse so quickly. As they bid their farewells, the many friendships and memories which were shared form a never-ending rainbow in the hearts of the Class of 1981.

1. Sophomore rests after a long day at school. 2. Cheerleaders use scare tactics on opposition. 3. Valedictorian Charmaine Massengale tries to choose a college from many options. 4. Michele Driskell strikes a cover-girl pose. 5. Leigh Turner tries to explain why she doesn't have a pass.

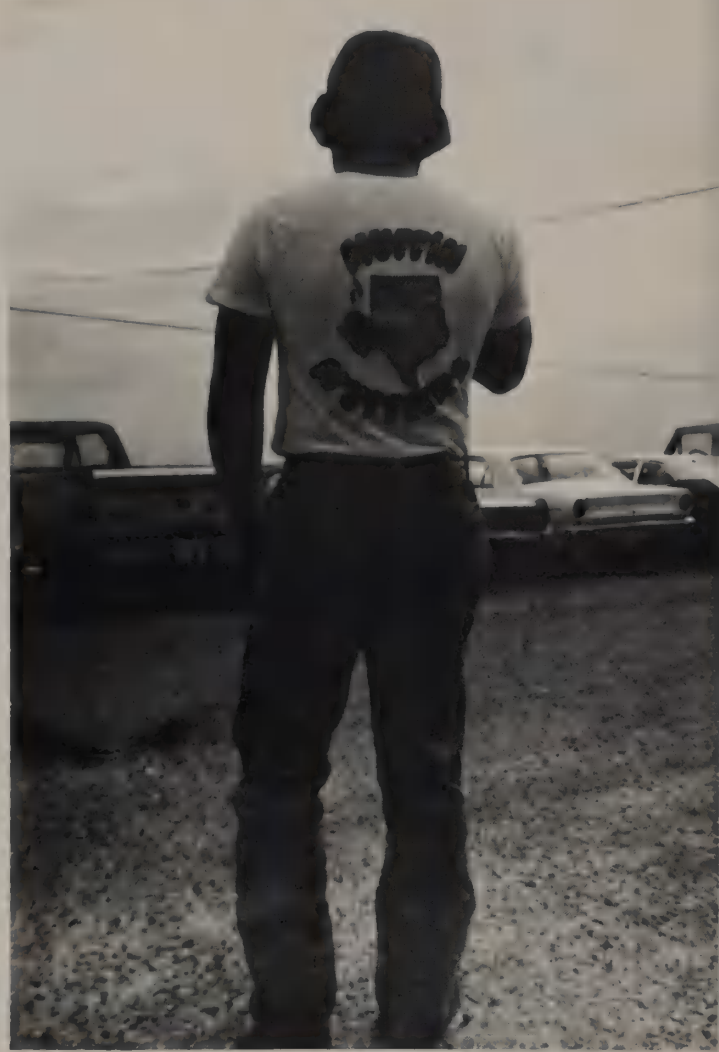

AT THE END OF THE RAINBOW

Senior Mack Baldrige shows excitement for summer to arrive.

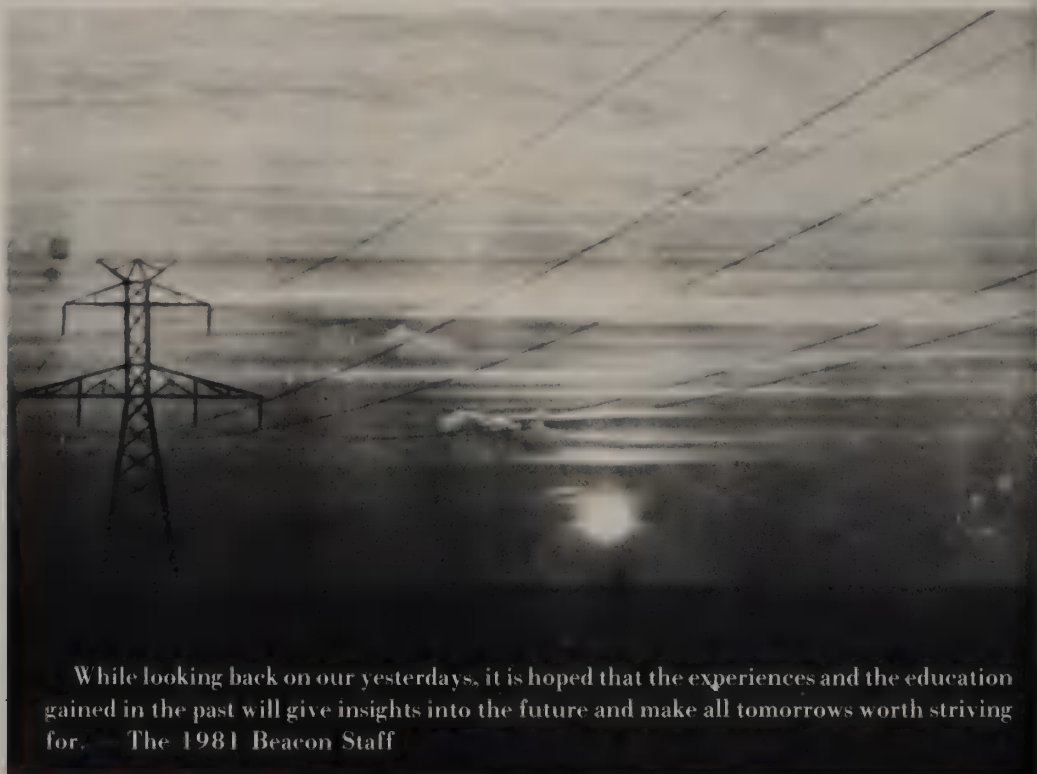

Tuffy Bulldog displays pride for the winning football season.

Senior Frank Castillo leaves Everman High for final time.
